EXCITEMENT

Caused By Runaway Mule and Horse.

Narrow Escape, But No Damage Done—All the News From Seatonville and Vicinity.

Seatonville, July 30.—The horse fly, the game mule, the old driving mare and the saddle mare came near throwing this community into a fearful panic last Sunday. While in church at Cedar Springs and just in the midst of a very interesting discourse by the regular pastor, Rev. G. L. Jorgenson, to a large crowd of intelligent people when you could have heard a pin fall, a fly got on Mr. Charlie Breenhanger's horse causing it to pull loose from the hitch post, the horse at once went with the buggy over a precipice, a fall of about ten feet. You can imagine better than I can tell, as to the commotion it caused in the house, but the preacher kept cool and succeeded in keeping enough people quiet to go on with the sermon, and after that everyone was surprised to hear that the horse was not hurt and only slight damage to the buggy. After the benediction we had an unusual social chat each in turn telling how glad we were that no damage was done and started home feeling fine, but on our road home, just after leaving the turn in the road at Mr. Turner's home, Roy Reid's mule ran away with the buggy. We are not able to say whether a fly or some other influence prompted the mule to go. Those in the best position to judge think it was caused by the clatter of the iron bound hoofs of the mule, little Bess, Ward Jean was riding. Mr. Ora Yeager and the preacher was just in front of Roy and the mule had only a few leaps to make when Roy's buggy wheel struck Ora's buggy wheel which caused the old gentile driving mare to want to go and it was all over. Ward Jean could both do to hold her. Roy's buggy turned over fastening her, his wife and baby under the top, which fortunately broke loose from the body. The mule with the gear of the buggy and little Bess, Ward Jean on her made a mad rush across the open meadow field of Mr. F. L. Jean in the direction of the Fork bridge—the mule, of course, without driver. Ward with no control of the little mare, the mare and the road at the bridge and went on in her mad night till she came to some bushes when Ward came to himself after the mare fortunately checked up. Some young men, who were remarkable to learn and to whom we are very thankful, dressed in baseball garb on the road to the ball grounds, very kindly helped head the mule, by this time Roy had gotten loose from his buggy and the preacher and the preacher had their horse, Old Beauty, settled. All hands joined in and caught the mule, unhurt. The very fortunate part of the unfortunate affair is that Roy and wife and baby came out without injury except a few scratches on baby's face and it is needless to say the family were looked after before the fleeing mule and mare were cared for.

Those who saw the unfortunate affair say it was pitiful and remarkable to see the young and devoted mother cling to the sweet little baby as they went over and when assistance reached this mother, she said to some one as I have heard the babe to them, "take him and look at him: I can't look at him—I know he is dead," but to their joy and delight he was safe—not exactly "Safe in the arms of Jesus," but next to Jesus' love a mothers.

We can scarcely believe that such an accident could happen and can account for it on the ground of Roy's being a quiet, level-headed man and with presence of mind to guide the mule only to give Mr. Yeager's buggy a glancing lick, which came near turning them over. We realized something had happened at a glance. Everyone is so glad to find it as it was and want to express thanks that it was no worse. Ora took Mrs. Reid and baby to her mother's, Mrs. Ella Miller. Roy led the mule to the house; preacher rode with K. S. Mills to his house to walk for Ora and all got settled and sincerely hope no more accidents will happen.

The weather is ideal now for making hay and nearly all of it is in stack or barns and very well cured. Blackberries, at least the cultivated ones, are almost gone, but there was a fine crop and those of us who had them to buy were glad they were plentiful.

The campers, as they were called, have returned to their homes in Louisville and settled down to real life again, after an outing of three weeks and they are certainly missed by everyone. They kept things lively, made it very pleasant for us during their sojourn here. We hope to have them all back next summer.

Mr. Carl McRoot and wife, of Fresno, California, Mrs. Nettie Owens Lagrange, of Franklin, Ind., Mrs. Chas. Wigginton, of Louisville, were the welcome guests of Mr. K. S. Mills and family recently. Mr. McRoot was born and lived seven years in the house now owned and occupied by Mr. Frank Jean. He is now engaged in a railroad office in Fresno, Cal.

Miss Mayme Bridwell delightfully entertained a few of her many friends at dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. Burdine Bridwell, wife and daughter, Miss Bessie Messer, Mrs. Stockhoff, Guy Mills, John Lee Pounds and Ward Jean, Misses Myrtle Johnson, Cleo and Ethel Mills, Mr. Geo. Bridwell and family. All were in good condition to enjoy the dinner which was beyond description. They all say they never saw nor ate a better dinner. It was Miss Mayme's birthday and the dinner was fit for a king. All wish Miss Mayme many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Sallie Morsey, Mr. N. A. Phillips and family, Mr. Ben Seewell and family spent Sunday with Mr. Bruce Sewell and family.

Mr. Lon Spears and wife attended church at Cedar Springs Sunday and dined with Mr. F. L. Jean and family.

Mr. Jake Pieck and wife dined with Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips Sunday.

Mr. E. L. Jorgenson filled the pulpit at Cedar Springs Sunday, it being his regular day there and dined with Mr. Ora Yeager and family, preached again at night as he does every 4th Sunday. Everyone is invited to come to both services and hear these gospel sermons.

Miss Erlene Wheeler spent Friday and Saturday with Miss Cleo Mills.

Misses Alice and Clara Bruce are spending a few days in Louisville with relatives.

Kentucky Western State Normal closed at Bowling Green last Thursday. Of course everyone returned to their respective homes. Miss Mattie Reid, one of the popular teachers, came to Louisville Friday noon spent the day with her sister, Mrs. George Cartwright, and started Friday night to attend school at Chicago University. We certainly wish Miss Mattie success in this noble life work.

Mr. Jim Graat and family spent afternoon with K. S. Mills and wife.

Mr. George Mills and wife, of Fern Valley, enjoyed services at Cedar Springs Sunday and visited relatives in the afternoon.

Mr. Elmer King and family, Mr. Ora Yeager and family and Mr. Nelson Yates met at the home of Mr. Willie King last Saturday evening and had an ice cream feast.

Miss Cleo Mills is spending this week with her cousin, Miss Ethel Mills.

Mr. Herbert Ellingsworth and wife, of Louisville, are spending their vacation with Messrs. Bailey Jones, Will Ellingsworth and Ora Yeager's families.

Mrs. Baker Bloomer and little daughter, Yvonne, and Miss Nellie Spaulding, of Shelbyville, visited Mrs. Willie King recently, who is a sister of Mrs. Bloomer.

Mrs. Chester Tyler and Edna Tyler, with a lady friend from Louisville spent Tuesday with Mrs. Arch Tennill.

F. L. & I. Notice.

Jeffersontown lodge, No. 407, meets Saturday evening 8 o'clock sharp; in F. L. & I. regular session. There will be important business on hand and work in initiatory and third degrees. All members are urged to be present on time at the new meeting place, the Masonic Hall.

C. A. HOMER, Secretary.

The Kentucky State Fair, which will be held in Louisville during September, is an enterprise in which all the people of the State should be interested and should encourage and patronize. It is an affair in which State pride should be largely evidenced.

LETTER

From Mrs. Mittie Vincenheller Cox.

Sends Contribution to Church and Writes of Beauties and Wonders of Eureka Springs.

Eureka Springs, Ark., July 24.—Mr. J. C. Alcock: Your kind favor of the 18th inst. received. Delighted to know that the Ladies' Aid have decided to decorate and improve our dear old church. I was beginning to think you were not going to let me have the honor and great pleasure of assisting with the good work. I sincerely wish them all success in the undertaking, with a beautiful church to worship in, in the future. Any time I can assist them I will gladly do so.

I promised you last summer I would write a letter for The Jeffersonian some time when favorably located. In my travels I have not found a more wonderful place than Eureka Springs, Ark., to describe the marvelous handiwork of our Creator. Eureka Springs is a beautiful little city of about 6,000 permanent residents, and each season of the year thousands of tourists visit here in search of health and pleasure.

The whole country around Eureka abounds in the beauties of nature. Towering mountains of green; rugged cliffs; gushing springs, rocks of all sorts of strange and curious formation; caves of singular and interesting formation, gullies and valleys, filled with almost every conceivable variety of scenery, charm and inspire the traveler who takes a rule or err in any direction. It is called the "City of Healing Waters," numberable cures by the waters of these springs are related to visitors. Permanent residents and visitors alike drink the water. Everybody carries a drinking cup or a water bottle. One seldom passes a spring without stopping to drink. Fifty springs gush from almost every gorge and hillside, and never fail in winter or summer to send forth their healing waters.

Along the mountain tops, the sides and the base, houses have been placed in picturesque irregularity, and on the summit of the highest peak has been constructed the "Crest Hotel," a majestic and imposing edifice of Eureka stone, which every modern improvement and convenience is to be found. From the observatory which surmounts the roof and from the windows and verandas of the building can be obtained a view to be found at few other places on the American continent, an impressive panorama of nature.

The city has a splendid electric street car system, which at places travels miles to carry you from one given point to another, only a block or two distant.

Beside the Crescent Hotel, which would be a credit to any city, it has numerous other hotels, some handsome churches, good schools, homes, attractive shops and stores, numerous pretty bungalows and many pretentious homes. Many of the residents are people of superior education and refinement, who came here in search of lost health. They found it and remained. To Eureka's credit I can say it is a great, charming, good Protestant city.

If you have any friends in search of health you can safely recommend Eureka Springs; for instance Mr. F. L. Jean, the genial merchant of Louisville. Judging from his appearance when we saw him last fall, the magnetic spring water would no doubt increase his appetite and renew his flesh.

With all good wishes for the still greater success of The Jeffersonian, I remain your friend sincerely,

MITTIE VINCENHELLER COX, 14 Singleton St., Eureka, Ark.

Editor Has A Fine Time.

One of our contemporaries down in the "Pennyrite District" lately contained the following, from which we are led to believe that "my scribbles" certainly had enjoyed himself: "The evening was most propitious. The air was balmy. The fragrance of flowers was patent in the breeze. The limpid moonlight, in a glow of beauty, blessed the hills and valleys. While from the vines and bushes, the merry twitter of playful birds, symphonies soft and low, entranced with other delight, the romantic party goes home. Now a still other delight was in store—some fine music and good singing, which every recipient enjoyed to the highest note. Thanks and compliments for such a model evening were ornate and lavish, and all felt truly glad that they had been present."

Picnic at "Shady Nook," Home of Mr. W. T. Clore, Delightful Affair.

Middleton, July 30.—The Christian Sunday-school, Ladies' Aid Society and Woman's missionary society of Middleton had a picnic last Thursday at "Shady Nook," the home of W. T. Clore, two miles out of Middleton, near Anchorage. By nine o'clock wagons, buggies and automobiles began to arrive. Mrs. Lawrence Cox entered into the fun for the day and she brought all the little primary folks out in a gaily decorated wagon with flags and red and white and blue streamers flying. Each had on a cap made of red white and blue, and the little folks had a merry time along the country road blowing their horns. Mr. Y. E. Tyler brought the young people on a hay ride with two large mules hitched to the wagon. They wore white caps and about twenty of the junior boys came on their wheels.

The boys and men who were fishermen had a big time fishing in Mr. Clore's fish pond, and many of them went home with nice strings of fish. Mr. John Waters thought he had landed a whale, but when brought to shore it was a mud turtle. The little folks kept several swings in motion all day.

At one o'clock a bountiful dinner of ham, fried chicken, pickle, cakes and pies was served on a long table under the shade of the beech and chestnut trees. After dinner beautiful songs were sung, "The Glory Song," "The Way of the Cross Leads Home," and others. Some sat around on the lawn in pleasant conversation, some played croquet, and a series of races were run. Mr. Loyd Poulter won in the men's race, Leonard Tyler won the blue ribbon in the sack race, James Mitchell won in the junior boys race, Marie Hoke won in the primary girls sack race, Mrs. Edgar Cox won in the ladies' hobble skirt race. All left about 6 o'clock for their homes, each saying they had spent a pleasant day.

The Sunday-school has had several picnics at "Shady Nook" and this one was called the farewell picnic to the old home. Mr. Clore bought and has been living at this home forty-four years. He is now 74 years old and is not strong enough to carry on the work on his farm. He has leased it to Mr. D. C. Humphrey, of Anchorage, which will take effect the first of September. Mr. Clore and his family will make their home at Middleton.

Mr. Fred Hoke and family, of Indianapolis, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Hoke.

FIRE! FIRE!

The Cry and Chief Fannelli "On the Job."

Chemical Engines Given a Test Tuesday Night—Free Lawn Supper Served.

From one thousand to fifteen hundred men, women and children from all parts of Jefferson county Tuesday night witnessed the demonstration of the two new LaFrance chemical fire engines recently purchased by the Jeffersontown Commercial Club. An old house was erected on the lot of Harvey Stout in Jefferson Heights, and at 8:30 o'clock was set ablaze by Cal Marshall and George Blankenbaker.

The alarm was given and the Jeffersontown Fire Department, headed by Fire Chief Frank Fannelli, was "on the job" in a hurry. So quickly did they arrive on the scene the chief gave orders to wait till the fire was under headway. When the blaze was soaring skyward and lighting the heavens, word was given to go to work, and in five minutes the fire was out. That the work of the volunteer department and the equipment measured up to all expectations was shown by the applause of the hundreds of people present.

George Krim, of No. 20 engine company, and George Bender, of No. 10 engine company, were detailed by Chief Lehman to give the new fireman their first lesson. They both paid a high tribute to the work of the volunteers. James L. Bowie, Jr., representative of the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, from which the new engine was bought, and Eugene J. Straus, chief of the Anchorage fire department, were among the spectators. They also had a good word for the exhibition.

Each of the engines holds forty-five gallons of the extinguishing fluid, which is a solution of sulphuric acid and bicarbonate of soda. When thrown on a fire it generates carbonic acid gas, and this smothers the flames. It is said that each gallon of the fluid is equal to thirty gallons of plain water. The engines are capable of throwing a powerful stream, and Chief Fannelli says he can fight a fire in any house in Jeffersontown. Buckets also have been provided, and a bucket brigade to recharge the engines during a fire will be organized and drilled. The apparatus is being kept in a storeroom belonging to Mrs. Mary E. Shafer until an engine-house is erected.

After the fire had been extinguished, R. B. Smith, president of the Commercial Club, invited the crowd to a spread served by the organization on the lawn of the Jefferson County Bank. Sandwiches, salad, pickles, cake and coffee were provided by the wives of the members and public-spirited women of the town: Mrs. R. B. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Carl Purcell, Mrs. F. P. Litterer, Mrs. R. Barnett, Mrs. Benjamin Yates.

Mrs. Frank Tyler, Mrs. E. V. Sprowl, Mrs. J. C. Alcock, Mrs. D. A. Davis, Mrs. Chas. Tyler and Miss Catherine Miller.

Those who assisted in hauling the engine to the fire were Fred Myers, Curtis Alcock, Harvey Stout, Elmer Carlin, Bud Hikes, Walter Ellingsworth, Mayse Jackson, Warren Welser, Raymond Bruce, Carl Tyler, Barto Roemmel and Edmund Swift. While setting fire to the structure George Blankenbaker fell and struck his eye against a stick, but not seriously injured. P. P. Litterer, assistant chief, severely burned his left arm while fighting the fire. These were the only mishaps reported.

COLORED FAIR

To Be Held Aug. 22, 23 and 24, at White Company's Fairgrounds.

The Jeffersonian has just completed the printing of the catalogues for the 1912 exhibition of the Jefferson County Colored Fair Company. The fair will be held this year at the white company's fairgrounds, near Vera Creek, three days, August 22, 23 and 24, 1912, and many side attractions, as well as added premiums, are offered.

The officers of the fair are Ed. Taylor, Jeffersontown, president; Joshua Williams, Buetchel, vice-president; Warren LaFue, Jeffersontown, secretary; James Adams, Buetchel, treasurer; George Lewis, Jeffersontown, fruit secretary. Directors: Arthur Shaffer, Frank Hobbs, Ed. Wilson, Sheridan Clark, R. Smith, Jas. H. Hathaway, George Caldwell and W. M. Hadden. All of these are among the most progressive and best class of colored people in Jefferson county.

The Jefferson county fiscal court has contributed one hundred dollars to be used for premiums at the fair, which promises to be one of the most successful ever held. There will be exhibits in needlework, painting, cooking, garden and farm products, fruit, preserves, etc., and special premiums for live stock of all kinds. Frothing and running races will be given daily.

The annual cake walk, which attracts so many white people every year, will take place Saturday, August 24. There will be plantation scenes, minstrel shows and flying Dutchmen for the young folks. Privileges will be sold the same day the white company will sell its privileges—Saturday, Aug. 3.

Methodist S. S. Picnic.

The Jeffersontown Methodist Sunday-school will hold its annual picnic at Cherokee Park tomorrow (Friday). A chartered car will leave Jeffersontown at 9:15 a. m., and every member and former member of the school is urged to be on hand and spend a pleasant day with the children. Methodists members of the Epworth League and Boy Scouts are also invited to join the party. Bring your basket dinners and have a good time.

J. C. ALCOCK, Sup't.

ALONG THE ROAD

BY THE JUDGE.

There's naught in life but worry, Its happiness is nil. Somehow we always have to hurry— I guess we always will.

Another of Squire Wheeler's aphorisms runs something like this: "Why should a woman care how much a man storms about the house as long as she reigns inside of it?"

The man with an imagination is always on the ragged of doing something—or somebody.

Amateur gardeners along the road have this season made the discovery that it is not necessary to plant string beans to the music of mandolin or guitar.

The price of gasoline has gone up as well as the price of hay—this is when the auto has nothing on the axle.

After all, we who live along the road are not in so much danger from iceburgs as automobiles.—Joe Buechel.

Joy thought—An alarm of fire in Buechel will soon bring the Jefferson town fire engines.

A woman never kicks when you compliment her tiny feet.—Jack Brehme.

I am an old man and supposed to have sense, but I have no doubt that somebody will get me to a picnic before long.—B. J. Lancaster.

Old Crosspatch advised his wife to buy an openwork hat because she could talk so much better through it.

Bread is the staff of life—Ask H. G. Heskamp.

I have noticed that it is warmer in summer than in winter.—Squire Rob.

Charlie Fegenbush is digging a cistern at his home. He would get along faster but he forgets to throw out the dirt every time.

Recent visitor at Jefferson town: "Anybody here that plays poker?"

Old-time citizen: "Plenty of 'em, if you don't mind lendin' 'em a dollar to start with."

The arrested chauffeur pleaded: "Your honor, I tried to warn the man, but the horn would not work. Then why did you not slacken speed, rather than run him down?" A light seemed to dawn upon the prisoner; that's one on me, I never thought of that.

Laughter has been scientifically defined as a convulsive action of the diaphragm. And the "Squire" innocently asks, "what in the thunder is a diaphragm? How is it that we have no surgical operations for diaphragmitis? I don't believe it."

The summer girl is here. This statement is no con: We recognize the dear— She has so little on.

Central Lincoln Road.

In order to boost the Central Lincoln Road, we have changed the name of this department from Buechel Enterprise to Central Lincoln Road. This will not only indicate that we are publishing the news from along the Central Lincoln Road, but advertise this famous thoroughfare wherever The Jeffersonian may go—and it goes all over the United States.

School for Courtship.

Courtship is an art so fine and subtle that the world has gone on for thousands of years with scarcely a thought of reducing it to anything like a definite science to be taught and learned by rule. The romancers, to be sure, have woven innumerable tales from the Garden of Sky Love, and lately the realists have begun digging lustily among its roots and hidden tendrils; indeed, the typical novel of today is concerned far more with the physiology than with the sentiment of courtship. Matrimonial bureaus have been established, too, and perhaps in certain desperate cases they have justified their trade. It has been left, however, to a high school in Los Angeles to lead the way by establishing a thoroughgoing department for the art of getting married—and of staying married, says the Atlanta Journal. The courses are proving immensely popular. There are five classes in which the girls are carefully tutored in matters of deportment during the various phases of wooing. They are also instructed in household management, home dietetics, dressmaking, millinery and the care of babies. It was originally planned that the boys of Los Angeles should be permitted to take these courses next year. There is now a prevailing opinion, however, that this will be altogether unnecessary, for when the girls have mastered their subject and have sharpened their instructive skill with special knowledge, what need, pray, will there be for any man knowing anything at all about courtship? The fact is, the average dandy, though she should be reared as Peridita was, upon a lonely trousersless island, can come upon the carpet at 18 and be as many proposals as she sets her head to. O, those wise women of the West! The Wise Men of the East were nothing to them.

Thieves at Work.

Thieves have broken into several residences in Buechel in the last week, among whose doors the homes of Joe Rudolph, Jacob Hikes, Meyer and George Groves. Nothing of great value was taken, though small sums of money were separated from the winners.

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to help cure constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets.

After using them, Mr. N. A. Vaddell, 315 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says: "Almost all my troubles with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is gentle and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The story opens at Monte Carlo with Col. Pyrene O'Rourke in his hotel. O'Rourke, a military free lance and something of a gambler, is waiting for appearance in the restaurant below when the sound of a girl's voice slugs attracts his attention. Leaving out on the balcony he sees a beautiful girl who suddenly disappears. He rushes to the corridor to see a small, dark, thin man enter the elevator and pass from sight.

CHAPTER II.—O'Rourke's mind is filled with thoughts of the girl, and he goes to the gaming table he allows his remarkable winnings to accumulate. He notices two men watching him. One is the Hon. Lucie Trevan, a noted duelist. When O'Rourke leaves the table the vicount tells him that he has been directed to O'Rourke as a man who would undertake a secret mission.

CHAPTER III.—At his room O'Rourke, who had agreed to undertake the mission, awaits the vicount. O'Rourke finds a mysterious letter in his apartment. The vicount arrives, hands a sealed package to O'Rourke, who is not to open until on the ocean. He says the French government will pay O'Rourke $20,000 for his services. A pair of dainty slippers are sent protruding from under a doorway curtain and the vicount charges O'Rourke with having a spy secreted there.

CHAPTER IV.—When the Irishman goes to his room he finds there the man of the mysterious foot. It is his wife, Beatrice, from whom he had run away a year previous. They are reconciled and opening the letter O'Rourke finds a note from a new firm in Rangoon, India, offering him $50,000 pounds for a duel with him by a dying friend. O'Rourke tells his wife that it is in the keeping of a friend named Chamberlain in Algeria.

CHAPTER V.—O'Rourke is forced to fight a duel with the vicount. The brave Irishman is wounded in the combat and acce the pollion.

CHAPTER VI.—The loyal wife Miss O'Rourke farewell and he promises to fight a duel with the vicount. The vicount and the vicount on board the ship which takes him to Algeria.

CHAPTER VII.—Chamberlain has left Algeria and O'Rourke has to gain a military detachment to reach the place to reach his friend. As he finds the latter there is an attack by bandits and Chamberlain is shot.

CHAPTER VIII.—Chamberlain tells O'Rourke that he has left the Pool of Flame with the governor general of Algeria. He gives the colonel a signed ring at the sight of which he says the official will deliver over the jewel.

CHAPTER IX.—O'Rourke is attacked by O'Rourke and the vicount who rescues his luggage, but it is worse than the conflict.

CHAPTER X.—When he arrives at Algeria the Irishman finds the governor general. He receives a note from Mrs. Trevan making a mysterious appointment.

CHAPTER XI.—The vicount tells O'Rourke that he has gained possession of the jewel by stealing it from the wife of the governor general. He does not, however, know who has offered the reward for it. He suggests a duel with rapier, the victor to get that information and the jewel.

CHAPTER XII.—In the duel O'Rourke masters his adversary and secures possession of the Pool of Flame.

CHAPTER XIII.—The efforts of O'Rourke are now directed toward speedily getting to Rangoon with the jewel and he starts by ship.

CHAPTER XIV.—He finds the captain of the vessel to be a smuggler who tries to steal the jewel from him.

CHAPTER XV.—The jewel is finally secured by the ship's captain and O'Rourke escapes to land.

CHAPTER XVI.—With the aid of one Danny and his sweetheart, O'Rourke recovers the Pool of Flame.

CHAPTER XVII.—O'Rourke again forms his plans to pursue his journey to Rangoon.

CHAPTER XVIII.—On board ship once more a mysterious lady appears who puzzles and interests the Irishman.

CHAPTER XIX.—O'Rourke comes upon a laquer about to attack the lady who is Mrs. Pyrene. He kicks the man into the hold.

CHAPTER XX.—Mrs. Pyrene claims she is en route for India on a mission for the king.

CHAPTER XXI.—The ship captain is offered money to increase the speed of the vessel toward its destination.

CHAPTER XXII.—There are suspicious occurrences on board, and a laquer says he is watching O'Rourke and Mrs. Pyrene.

CHAPTER XXIII.—The woman tells of some one prowling about the cabin and trying the door of her stateroom.

CHAPTER XXIV.—Finally he gets to the laquer who has offered the reward. CHAPTER XXX.—He delivers the jewel and the laquer pays over the money.

Far over the water a white and flashing light lifted up and caught his eye, a nameless beacon bright against the darkness at the base of the Arkan hills, guardian of the perils of those shallow seas. And simultaneously he became conscious of a presence at his elbow; as he turned sharply the English girl addressed him in a voice sweet-toned and quiet.

"What is that light, if you please, Colonel O'Rourke?"

"Faith, that I can't say, Miss Pyrene."

Her eyes flashed a laugh upon him in the gloom. "Then you know my name?"

"Even as yourself knew mine. I would be strange otherwise, with our ship's company so small."

"But I," she returned, animated, "am such an insignificant person—while you are the Colonel O'Rourke."

"Te do me an honor I'm not deserving, Miss Pyrene, but 'tis proud I am entirely that a humble soldier of fortune should be known to ye by reputation."

"Oh, I've grown quite weary of your fame, Colonel O'Rourke," she countered with a trace of laughing impudence. "Hardly anything has interested Monsieur De Hyveres, these past few days, save anecdotes of your exploits."

"'Tis kind of him to be sure. I must cultivate his acquaintance and learn from him to know myself, I see."

If she detected the irony she overlooked or failed to understand. "He's very interesting," she commented, pleasantly. "But then most Frenchmen are, don't you think? I hope to see much of him in Rangoon."

"So he's landing there, too?" O'Rourke filled in the pause.

"I believe so. And you, Colonel O'Rourke?"

"I may have to wait over until the next steamer," he admitted warily.

"I sympathize heartily with your disgust at the prospect," laughed the girl.

"Eh? And why? 'Tis a land of fair repute for climate and beauty?"

"Ah, but I live in Burma, you see, and so have come to know it far too well. But that's the way with all patriots; just let it be to betwixt their homes so far from home."

"Must ye endure it, then, Miss Pyrene?"

"An orphan has little choice. It seems my kismet to abide in Rangoon forever and a day. You see, my only living relative is an uncle, Mr. Lansdowne Sypher, and he's got no one else to keep house for him."

"Lansdowne Sypher . . . ?"

The ejaculation sprang to O'Rourke's lips before he could restrain it.

"Yes. Do you know him? He's the junior, you know, of the firm of Secretan and Sypher."

"Solicitors, are they not? . . . No; 'tis misfortune not to know your uncle. But the name of his firm I've heard."

The genial nature of the Irishman, which had insensibly warmed to the girl's charm, withdrew abruptly, tortoise-like, into a shell of reserve. The element of confidence had again entered into his affairs, and he had learned a bitter lesson from experience—to distrust confidence on general principles. "There's naught so common in life as coincidences," he philosophized, "and he the same token naught so dangerous."

For which reason he invented an early excuse to terminate the conversation, and ungallantly withdrew to the seclusion of his stateroom, where he passed a night that seemed interminable; for he lay long in a wakeful panic of imagination, scheming out a hundred stratagems whereby he might confuse as many possible attempts to prevent the due and safe delivery of the Pool of Flame into the hands of Mr. Lansdowne Sypher.

THE JEFFERSONIAN

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

TELEPHONES:

COLUMBIAN-363, JEFFERSONTOWN KY.
HOMER-7000, CREEK CHURCH, KY.
FREE CITY AND COUNTRY SERVICE.
ALICE 5-00, CALLER JOURNAL.

Thursday, August 1, 1912.

ACTION upon the suggestion of The Jeffersonian the citizens of Jefferson county, especially those residing near Middletown, have started a campaign to secure 250 householders' names on a petition to be presented to the County Judge of this county, whose duty it shall be to appoint four persons to constitute a Building School Commission. In order to provide money for erection and furnishing of school buildings, etc., the Fiscal Court may adopt a resolution submitting to the voters of the county, at the November election occurring ninety days after the entry of the order, and succeeding the appointment of the Commission, the question whether bonds shall be issued for the purpose of carrying out the work provided for.

Realizing the short space of time to get the petition to the County Judge and the order from the Fiscal Court, the citizens of the county are working day and night on the proposition. This plan was suggested by Mr. John B. McPerran, and is said to be the only way the rural schools may compete with the city schools. If the voters of Jefferson county vote in favor of the proposition modern and up-to-date school buildings will be erected all over Jefferson county. Now is the time for everybody in the county to get busy and work for good schools.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Holds Lively Meeting and Plans Street Carnival—Meet Again Tomorrow.

The Jeffersontown Commercial Club held a called meeting last Friday night and arranged for a big street carnival to be held in Jeffersontown all next week. The Club will get a per centage of all receipts, and money derived will be used to help pay for erecting poles and lamps for lighting the town by electricity.

Upon resolutions adopted President R. B. Smith appointed the following committees to work on the proposition: To see the town trustees and secure additional police protection; Frank Panelli, D. A. Davis, and P. P. Litterer; To take charge of tickets, make daily settlements and appoint ticket takers: Rev. J. J. Cole, advertising committee, J. C. Alcock, E. V. Sprowl and Fred Myers; To have charge of "Queen of the Carnival" contest: J. C. Bruce, Harvey Stout and J. C. Bowles; Special committee to arrange for sacred concert Sunday night: Lud M. Bryan, Cal Marshall and Chas. Tyler. The committee that got up the carnival and which has things in charge is composed of Frank Panelli, Rev. J. J. Cole, J. C. Bruce, Chas. Tyler, W. J. Semolin, Harvey Stout and Fred Myers.

The club will meet again tomorrow (Friday) night at the Hall and make final arrangements for carnival to be held all next week.

TRUSTEES

To Be Elected in Jefferson County Next Saturday, August 3, In Old Way.

School trustees in Kentucky will be elected in the old way, by a vote vote, next Saturday, August 3, the law having been changed at the last General Assembly. A poll sheet will be provided, and men and women of lawful age will be entitled to vote. Two judges and clerk will be named at the polls.

Trustees will be elected in the following school districts in Jefferson county. Division 1—Nos. 44, 52, 53 and 60; Div. 2—41, 48 and 60; Div. 3—6, 25, 27, 30, 31, 32, 38, 42 and 70; Div. 4—49, 51 and 59; Div. 5—8, 9, 24, 30 and 74; Div. 6—47; Div. 7—19, 35, 63, 64 and 73; Div. 8—13, 14, 58, 61, 62 and 65.

Little Orval Alcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Alcock, has been very ill the past few days.

ASHVILLE

Happenings Told in a Spicy Manner From County Beyond Fern Creek Car Line.

Miss Levada Bogard has returned from the East and will teach at the Fairmount school house next term.

Mr. Coleman Carterright will give a dance next Saturday night at Wildwood.

They surely have a lively, not to say frolicsome time, at the Nicholson House. They have had two bathing parties at Floyd fork this week and have an all-day picnic scheduled for Friday.

Dr. Rush is back to stay,—to leave his bones with us he says. It would seem to be something of an anti-climax for Dr. Rush to come back; his passing was heralded with trumpets. But Dr. Rush had reasons for coming back to us. He was born and reared in this county, was accustomed to the good fellowship of Kentucky and just could not live elsewhere. He first tried it and could not stand the pressure—that's all.

The infant child of Mr. George Hawes is critically ill.

Hugh Brown, recently of Ashville, sent Squire E. B. Herby a potato from Orange Beach, Fla. The potato is a large one and we hope it was grown without any labor; Hugh left here looking for a place where crops would grow without work.

Mr. Dave Kyser visited Dr. and Mrs. Farmer last week.

Mrs. Geo. McKinney visited Mrs. Geo. Long last week.

CONVENTION

Of Jefferson County Christian Sunday-Schools Held In Jeffersontown.

The annual Sunday-school Convention of the Christian churches of Jefferson county was held at the First Christian church, Jeffersontown, Ky., all day Tuesday with a splendid attendance. All the co-operating schools of the county, which includes the Sunday-schools of Louisville, had representatives present. The program was in the hands of Walter Frazer and W. J. Clark, both special in Sunday-school work. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. J. Cole, the pastor, and a short address was given by Mr. Rogers, of Louisville, in response to the welcome address. Miss Stoy, of Jeffersonville, Ind., discussed in a very helpful manner the graded lessons, after which the morning session was adjourned to partake of a sumptuous lunch served by the ladies of the church in the yard of the bank.

The afternoon speakers were Mrs. D. W. Scott, Louisville, "The Value of the Home Department"; Miss Wilson, Louisville, "The Cradle Roll"; Rev. D. W. Scott, "The Importance of the Teacher"; W. J. Clark, "The A. B. C. Class" Louisville. All of these addresses were well prepared and full of enthusiasm.

The ministers present were Mr. Bartholomew, Louisville; H. N. Renzell, J. J. Cole, Jeffersontown; Mr. Dampier, Lexington; W. J. Clark, Vicksburg; D. W. Scott, Louisville; visiting minister, Rev. Mr. Elgin, of the M. E. church, Jeffersontown.

The convention meets with the Prospect Christian church next year with Mr. Lloyd as president and Miss Wilson as secretary.

UNION SERVICES

Of Jeffersontown Christian and Methodist Churches Next Sunday.

On account of repairs now under way at the Jeffersontown Christian church, there will be union preaching services between the Christian and Methodist churches next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Virgil Elgin will deliver the sermon. Mr. Elgin will soon be away in a meeting at Choptank and Rev. J. J. Cole, pastor of the Christian church, will hold union services at his church.

The Y. P. C. E. of the Christian church is invited to meet with the Epworth League Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Union services Sunday night will be held on the public square. Revs. J. J. Cole and Virgil Elgin delivering the addresses and the Italian band with Littlejohn's shows furnishing the music. Every body is invited to all services.

John C. Sherley Dead.

The funeral of John C. Sherley, seventy-six years of age, prominent fire insurance man, Confederate veteran and uncle of Congressman Seager Sherley, who died Sunday morning was conducted at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the chapel at Cave Hill cemetery. He was taken ill Tuesday of last week and removed to the home of his brother-in-law, T. C. Hobbs, at Anchorage. He was a native of Louisville and a son of the late Capt. Zachariah Sherley, a steamboat captain and local financier. For years he was in the tobacco warehouse business as a member of the firm of Glover & Durman. During the Civil War he served under Gen. John H. Morgan. Of late years he was connected with Barbee & Castleman. He was prominent in the affairs of the Confederate Veterans and the First Christian church.

Auction Sale--16 Beautiful Lots

AT HIKES' POINT

SATURDAY, AUGUST 10, 1912

AT 3:00 O'CLOCK P. M.

At 3:30 p. m., Mr. HENRY GERING has ordered me to subdivide his splendid tract of garden land and sell it in lots to the highest and best bidder on above date.

ONE OF THESE LOTS has a No. 1 dwelling of six rooms, etc., and fronts the Louisville and Taylorsville pike and car line.

The Corner Lot has on it

THE BELLE-FONTAIN NATURAL MEDICAL WATER WELL

which has a ready sale, as it is a good remedy for all kidney and liver complaints, and is an admirable location for a hotel or store.

HIKES' POINT being on the Jeffersontown Interurban car line, and No. 1 Pike, only 3 1/2 miles from city limits, with five cents car fare makes this the best proposition offered this year or that is likely to be for sometime.

It is surrounded by one of the most beautiful and fertile sections in Jefferson county.

For a Country Home, or Investment this Offering is Unsurpassed. Investigate beforehand and you will certainly be there on day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash, balance in one and two years, with interest at 6% of purchase price will be required on day of sale, as a guarantee of good faith.

BOY SCOUTS

Defeats Buechel Boys in Spirited Game of Baseball by Score Of 12 to 9.

The Buechel and the Jeffersontown Scouts came together on the Jeffersontown diamond last Saturday afternoon in a game that was well worth the notice of the fans. The Scouts "put it over" on the visitors, but the fellows from off the Lincoln Way say they can't do it again. But the Scouts are never afraid to try. The score was 12 to 9.

Evans, the old reliable, did the twirling for the Scouts while Hager "put 'em over" for the Buechels. These Buechel fellows are noted for their fleet footedness, Hoke, for instance, who hits hard and goes for first base like a deer, and also Yann, who is a heavy hitter as well as a heavy fellow.

Teams with players between the ages of twelve and seventeen can get a game with the Jeffersontown Boy Scouts on Saturday afternoons by telephoning C. A. Hummel at "The Haven," or communicating with Walter Ellingsworth, captain.

Exciting Game of Ball.

Before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a ball game at Jefferson Heights the Sapsquinos, of New Albany, defeated the Fancelli Brothers, of Jeffersontown, last Sunday by the score of 6 to 5. The game was snappy and hard fought from start to finish and it kept the fans on the edge all the time. Both Harrington and Whiteman pitched good ball, Whiteman having a shade the better. With the visitors at bat and the score a tie and two out in the ninth, Badger hit to deep left center for a home run, it being the longest hit ever made on the home grounds. The features of the game were the fielding of Culp and Baker and hitting of Bonlers, Lavis and Mattingly. Badger's hitting featured for the visitors. Next Sunday's attraction will be the Dolls, of Louisville. Game called at 3 p. m.

Fire and Shooting.

Fire destroyed the house occupied by Joseph Parrish, colored, at the overhead bridge on the Tucker Station road today at 11:30 o'clock. In giving the alarm by firing a shot gun Parrish's son, Sidney, age 14, accidentally shot his sister, Florence, age 17, who will die from the wounds received from the shot and from the burns received in the fire. Dr. Blankenhauer was summoned. Marshal Tyler placed the boy under arrest. The injured girl was the only one in the house at the time of the fire, origin of which is unknown. On hearing the shots John Hager rushed to the house and dragged the injured girl out.

Pleasant Picnic.

A picnic was given last Saturday by Mr. Reuben Smith at Frederick's Ford. A very enjoyable time was spent by all. Those who composed the party were Misses Ethel Hummel, Margaret Harris, Sallie Jones, Ella and Allie Smith, Gertrude Ellingsworth, Lucila Tyler, Bernice Robins, Mary and Eva Stucky, Messrs. Reuben Smith, Robert and Willie Yates, Frank Robins, Bluford Frederick, Clifford Jones, Carl Miller and Roy Bridwell. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Wm. Hummel and Mrs. Carl Ellingsworth.

Picnic at Pleasant Grove.

Pleasant Grove Baptist Sunday-school will have a picnic on the church lawn, Thursday August 8th. The Sunday-schools around have been asked to unite with them in making a big picnic of it. Cake and cream will be sold. There will be games, races and swings, and everything promises to make the day a happy memory in years to come.

Are Ever at War.

There are two things everlasting at war, joy and piles. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve will banish piles in any form. It soon subdues the itching, irritation, inflammation or swelling. It gives comfort, invites joy. Great healer of burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises, eczema, scalds, pimples, skin eruptions. Only 25c at all druggists.

The Annual Picnic.

Thursday, July 25, 1912, will go down as a red letter day in the history of many. The churches of Worthington, Glenview and Eight Mile, feeling that a respite from the heat and cares of life were due them, assembled in the beautiful grove just back of Mr. Roger Smith's farm for a day of social enjoyment. By 10 o'clock many wagons and luggies loaded with people, bearing on pleasure, and many portable bandstands.

Long ere the noon hour arrived many were the longing glances cast toward the long table with its delicious board. At last the much desired time arrived and all were invited to gather about the table which by this time was fairly groaning under its great weight. After the blessing had been asked by Bro. Sarge each one proceeded slowly but surely to wreak havoc on the nice things the ladies had spent much valuable time in preparing and in a short time not a whole chicken or cake remained to tell the fate of its companions.

STREET FAIR CARNIVAL

Commercial Club Arranges for a Week of Big Attractions in Jeffersontown

FUN AND FROLIC FOR EVERYONE

Littlejohn's United Shows Will Be in Jeffersontown August 5 to 10—Many Attractions—Sacred Concert Sunday

The Commercial Club has closed a contract for a big free street fair with the Littlejohn's United Shows for one solid week commencing Monday, August 5th, and ending Saturday, August 10th.

The company comes highly recommended from many Kentucky cities and carries a special train of nine cars. Among the many attractions are The Old Plantation, Leon's Dog Circus, Pate Bros. Society Theatre, Madison's Electric Theatre, Aimon Smith's Educated Horse, Centaur, Celina, Snake Girl; Waltzing Mice, Malay Prince, Ferris wheel, Merry-go-round, Battiatoe's Royal Italian Band and Prof. James Moore's Sensational High Dive from ninety foot ladder. All attractions will open on Monday night and from that on they will be open every afternoon and evening.

The great Italian band, assisted by the local pastors of the churches, will give a sacred concert on the streets of Jeffersontown Sunday night. Everybody is invited to be present. It's free, and no offering will be asked.

The shows will be enjoyable to both young and old. The educated dogs will amuse the little folks, and Centaur, the educated horse, is a wonder. The Old Plantation show, together with the Society and Electric Theatre the Snake Girl, Waltzing Mice, etc., are worth coming miles to see. There will be the Merry-go-Round, the Ferris Wheel and other side attractions for the children.

The high dive is one of the most wonderful acts ever performed by man.

All the shows of this large company by J. C. Bruce, J. C. Bowles and Harvey Stout, of the Commercial Club, and a beautiful diamond ring will be awarded the lady receiving the largest number of votes. These votes can be bought for one cent each and quite a number of the young ladies have signified their willingness to become candidates for Queen of the Carnival, and they should all receive the encouragement of their friends. All moneys derived by the Commercial Club from the numerous concessions, etc., will be devoted to the electric light system to be installed in Jeffersontown.

High Class.

Relative to the Littlejohn attractions we can conscientiously say that they come to us highly recommended as attractions of merit, truthfully advertised and honestly conducted free from anything whatsoever pertaining to immorality or gambling. A company of over one hundred gentlemen and ladies traveling on a special train of nine cars. It would be hard to mention any one of these shows as being better than the other, as different people have different tastes, but for the masses Littlejohn's personally conducted "Old Plantation Show" of sixteen happy Darkies is ever popular and excels any attraction of like nature on the road today.

Prof. Leon's Dog Circus, consisting of some twenty or more canine performers, is a favorite retreat, and it's wonderful to witness the sensational and clownish stunts performed by these little actors.

Mr. Simon Smith comes to us with his favorite horse, Centaur. This horse actually removes his harness, blows out the lamp and retires to bed just like a human. Pate Bros. Society Theatre could be properly termed the Temple of Music. The other attractions are Celina Snake Girl, the Sacred Waltzing Mice of Japan, the American Eagles, the Electric Theatre, Ferris Wheel and Merry-Go-Round.

As added features the Commercial Club and Mr. Littlejohn jointly offer absolutely free hourly concerts by Prof. S. Battiatoe's Royal Italian Band and twice daily Prof. Moore, of High Dive fame, will make his death-defying somersault drop from a 90-foot ladder into a net ten feet square.

Many concessions of all kinds will be here to help you while away the time, such as baby and knife racks, country stores, fortune tellers, ten pins, shooting galleries, etc. Jeffersontown will keep open house for its neighbors on this occasion and all are heartily extended a most cordial invitation.

may be patronized by the best people. Littlejohn's attractions have the reputation of being first-class in every respect and are endorsed by the clergy and press wherever they have been.

Commercial Club.

The Jeffersontown Commercial Club, in bringing these shows here for a solid week of entertainment, deserves much credit and the patronage of the whole county should be liberally given. The proceeds derived by the Club will be used for a worthy cause. Among the things in view is the erection of street lamps for electricity, poles, etc., for lighting the town.

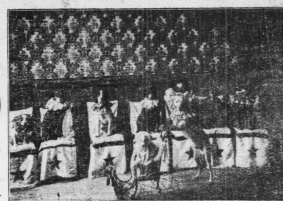

Special features during the week will be put on by the Club. Among them will be a voting contest. Votes will be given to patrons and may be cast for some young lady to be crowned "Queen of the carnival." The lady receiving the greatest number of votes will be publicly crowned. Merchants from Louisville will erect booths around the streets to advertise their wares and at night the little city will be beautifully illuminated by hundreds of lights.
